

5 Senses

In this scenario, a group of participants engage in a special event focused on sensory experiences. They go through a series of activities that test their knowledge about senses, challenge them to explore mindfulness, and experience various aspects of it, such as wine tasting and creating a symphony based on the team's brain activity. Additionally, they have the opportunity to test their artistic skills through street art and ice sculpting. Everything concludes with a photo session around their creations, marking the end of the competition and the beginning of an unforgettable party.
