

A vibrant photograph of three women at a carnival. The woman in the foreground is smiling, looking upwards, wearing a red feather headband and pink glittery eye makeup. Behind her, another woman is laughing, wearing a blue feather headband and colorful face paint. A third woman is partially visible in the lower right, also smiling. The background is slightly blurred, showing other people and structures.

The Carnival

At its core, “The Carnival” is a celebration of playful imagination, where teams dive into a vibrant mix of creativity and light-hearted challenges. The day kicks off with masked self-portraits, followed by a fast-paced scavenger hunt that fuels the creation of unique team accessories. Classic carnival games add energy, a samba moment brings everyone together, and each group builds its own fair-style booth. Everything wraps up with an unconventional casting challenge and a colourful costume parade that captures the spirit of fun, collaboration and shared joy.